4.3: Photonic Crystal Lasers

Why is it helpful to use a photonic crystal to make a laser?

A. Allows for strong confinement of pump and emission frequencies
B. Allows emission frequency photons to escape more rapidly
C. Suppresses nonradiative losses
D. Enhances spontaneous emission

E. Allows for external pumping at pump frequency, and strong confinement at emission frequency