

Dear Contributor,

Thank you for considering to have your seminar or presentation taped by the nanoHUB team for online presentation.

The current technologies that the nanoHUB uses to make your presentation available online are: 1) Adobe-Macromedia Presenter (formally known as Breeze) which creates a Flash based version of your presentation, 2) Adobe Acrobat PDF as a companion copy of your presentation slides, 3) podcast in video and/or audio formats.

To create these final forms of your presentation we need in addition to the live video recording, your Powerpoint file and any needed movie files. We do not make these specific materials available online they are only used in the preparation process. The primary purpose of the video recording is to allow us to sync your voice to your slides. In most cases it is not made available for public viewing.

In addition please take a moment to create a login on the nanoHUB. As a contributor we connect your nanoHUB login to your presentation thereby giving you future control to edit your presentation. To create a nanoHUB account please visit <http://www.nanohub.org/newaccount>

A detailed explanation of the authorization form you signed can be found at: <http://www.nanohub.org/legal/videotaping>

We are sensitive to publication and patent issues. Please let us know if you have concerns regarding the publishing of your presentation.

After we finish processing your presentation, we will contact you by email to let you know when your presentation is available on line.

Should you have any questions or concerns regarding this process, please contact:

Joe Cychosz
Online Seminar Production Manager
Cychosz@ecn.purdue.edu
765.494.5944